

ABSTRACT

A business card which has the normal information, such as name address and telephone number printed on one side of the card and this same information is printed on a static cling sheet which is attached to the opposite side of the card.